Work and Well Being Study

STAFF SURVEY ON EXPERIENCE OF CLIENT AGGRESSION

Your participation will help raise awareness of this issue.

Please take 15 min. to complete online survey or print out attached copy.

Survey must be submitted by February 28, 2010.

What is the survey about?

1. How common is it for staff to witness or experience aggression in the clients they support?
2. What sort of an impact does that experience have on the health and well being of staff?
3. According to staff, what efforts by agencies appear to make a difference?

Who is doing the study?

The Centre for Addiction and Mental Health is conducting a Work and Well being study. The project was reviewed by the Human Resource Committee of the Provincial Network and recognized by this group as timely and very relevant to the sector. This project was also brought to the attention of decision makers at MCSS, involved in the HR portfolio.
