is sponsoring a

Public Forum on Social Services

A decade of budget cuts has gutted important services which make our community safe.

Children and families aren't getting the support they need in times of crisis.

And at the same time, facilities are being closed, services are being cut, and tax dollars are wasted on companies which are not providing the services we need.

Come out and learn more. Ask questions. Find out what you can do to make our communities work the way they should.
