

Faculty care about quality education

Faculty at Ontario's 24 colleges want a new contract that addresses the real issues of quality: smaller classes, more teachers and more faculty time for students.

We want workload improvements to ensure faculty have the time to prepare for classes, teach and evaluate students.

We want salary improvements so colleges can attract and keep the best possible faculty at appropriate pay rates between high schools and universities.

We want staffing improvements so partial-load faculty, teaching seven to 12 hours, are treated fairly. We don't want part-time and sessional teachers abused as a pool of cheap labour.

Bob Rae's report and the McGuinty government both support more faculty, more access for students and higher quality post-secondary education. McGuinty has pledged $6.2 billion for just that goal.

Faculty care about quality education. We hope management has the same commitment and will do what it takes to end this dispute.
