

What happens next?

Only OPSEU has an executive made up exclusively of social housing staff, with experience dealing with our workplace. We know this employer and know how to protect your rights.

We have a team in place, prepared to bargain a new collective agreement immediately, in both the Office, Professional and Clerical and Security Units.

Until a new agreement is negotiated, you'll get the collective agreement you vote for- be it OPSEU 592's or CUPE 79's - so make sure it responds to your needs.

Building a strong union ...with you!

"I welcome the Labour Board's decision to allow all TCHC staff the opportunity to vote on which union will be representing them.

I am confident that the elected officers of Local 592 and our experienced staff represent the best team to negotiate and fight on behalf of social housing staff. OPSEU has 30 years of experience advocating for workers on housing issues.

We welcome new members to join us and know you will play a valuable role in building our union."

Leah Casselman,
President, OPSEU

What is OPSEU?

The Ontario Public Service Employees Union has about 100,000 members across Ontario. We represent workers from thousands of professions. We negotiate hundreds of collective agreements every year.

OPSEU has a wealth of experience in issues affecting housing staff. We have fought hard against downloading, privatization and contracting out, and will continue to do so.

OPSEU has a special grievance policy: No member will be denied an opportunity to take a grievance forward because the Union can't afford it. Only OPSEU has this policy.

When you sign on with OPSEU, you get service. OPSEU's staff includes professional negotiators, pension experts, and specialists in health and safety, worker's compensation, job security, research and communications. OPSEU has taken on the toughest employer in Canada - the Tory government - twice, and won decisive victories for our members. We'll be there for you when it matters!
