

Guess who's coming to Ottawa?

The Canadian government wants to quickly wrap up a free trade deal with Colombia, a country with the worst human rights record in the Americas.

Canada is now Colombia's top trade target. If Canada gives its seal of approval for "business as usual" with Colombia it undercuts the struggle for human rights improvements.

Canada says it's committed to promoting democracy, respect for human rights, and the rule of law in the Americas. Ratifying a free trade deal with a murderous regime sends the wrong message!

The human rights crisis in Colombia continues! President Uribe must be held to account.

Come to Parliament Hill Wednesday, June 10, 1:00 p.m.

Canadians say "No" to a deadly trade deal!
Canadians stand up for human rights!

Sponsored by: Canadian Auto Workers Union, Canadian Labour Congress, Canadian Union of Postal Workers, Canadian Union of Public Employees, Christian Peacemaker Teams - Canada, Council of Canadians, La Chiva, National Union of General and Public Employees, Public Service Alliance of Canada, United Steelworkers

On June 10 Prime Minister Stephen Harper is rolling out the red carpet for Colombia's President Álvaro Uribe Vélez.

Uribe's regime is stained with the blood of hundreds of murdered trade unionists and hundreds of thousands of peasants, Afrocolombians and Indigenous peoples displaced from their land.

Uribe and his band of politicians are coming to Ottawa to whitewash their appalling human rights record so Canadians will accept a free trade deal!
